The Alice Hawkins Project

Creating HERstories...

Are you a young person looking for a new and different challenge?

Do you want the opportunity to gain some hands-on learning experience?

Could you donate some time for a unique community project?

We want 50 young, motivated individuals to get involved in a brand new and exciting project.

The aim of the project is to create a lasting archive detailing the experiences of local women over the past 100 years, and will give a real insight into the barriers they have faced and successfully overcome.

The stories collected will be recorded using dance, drama, radio, video, artwork and oral history, and is a great chance to gain practical, hands-on experience.

It's a fantastic opportunity to learn about the amazing stories and people that live just around the corner and who are waiting to be discovered by YOU!

To find out more about the project and how YOU can take part, simply contact Lara on 0116 2575615 or email lara@leicestherday.org.uk
